Sgt. JOHN A. PARRY of Niles, with the Army Finance Department, came out from Sioux City, Iowa to spend a furlough with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Parry, prior to being "sent out".

(If you saw him in civilian clothes it was not because he was discharged but because he had such a dirty trip coming out on the train that he had to send his one and only uniform to the cleaners. Good luck, Jack, wherever you go!)

Pvt. JOHN G. ROSE of Irvington, who started his tank corps training at Camp Rucker, Alabama has been promoted to Sergeant and is finishing his training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, word brought this office reveals.

MT. HAMILTON TRIP

It is still possible to drive to the top of Mt. Hamilton, that scenic objective in Santa Clara County, advises the San Jose Office of the National Automobile Club, and to visit the Lick Observatory in the daytime; however, looking through the telescopes Saturday evenings has been discontinued for the duration.

S. P. RENEWS APPEAL FOR TRACK WORKERS

The urgent need for more spare-time workers to help Southern Pacific maintain its tracks in this vicinity was emphasized again today by Harvey Braun, local agent for the company.

"Southern Pacific is short several thousand section men for its full-time crews in the Pacific area", Braun said, "and is appealing to business and professional men, students and others, who have time to spare on weekends, to help relieve the shortage."

The proper maintenance of railroad tracks, he pointed out, is necessary for the speedy handling of the ever-growing war traffic. For this reason, persons who are able to devote time to track work will be contributing directly to the country's war effort.

Since the campaign to enlist the services of spare-time workers on section crews was launched by Southern Pacific several months ago, Braun said, much valuable assistance has been received, but the company has immediate need for many more trackmen.

Weekend and holiday employment on the railroad offers local men not only an opportunity to engage in vital war work but also to earn extra money. Full information regarding this work may be obtained from Local Agent Braun.

RALPH ALLAN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allan of Irvington, has just returned from several months of study at an eastern university. He is now stationed at Pleasanton as a second class machinist.

Fireman second class JACKIE ALLAN has been transferred from Oceanside to San Diego and is now awaiting further orders.

CLARENCE V. TELLES now somewhere in North Africa, son of Joseph Telles Sr. has been promoted to SF 3/c according to word received this week through a friend, Vernon Rose of Pleasanton.

Corporal LESLIE CALLAHAN of Pennsylvania is home on a fifteen day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Callahan and his fiancée Miss Gertrude Mozzetti. He was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cross on Tuesday. Mrs. Cross is his sister. Corp. Les expects to "be on his way" very soon after his return to camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Howe of the Mission received a telephone call from their son Ensign HOWE last week, who is located in the east, that he was leaving immediately for foreign duty.

JOHN HUDDLESON, U. S. Army in Florida spent Sunday as the dinner guest of Nelle Marie Warren and family in the Mission.

Mrs. Ann Azevedo, wife of FRANK AZEVEDO, U. S. Army, who has been shipped across, has returned to their home in Niles after spending months in Taunton, Mass., where Frankie was stationed. She came to visit her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Azevedo Sr. here in the Mission and to bring the latest word from her son.

Sgt. ORION DUNBAR aviation cadet of Pyote, Texas is home on a ten day furlough with his family. He spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Lois Justus and mother at the Mission.

Pvts. MELVIN SOUZA and MILTON CASTRO, both of Camp Cooke, Calif. spent a weekend pass at their respective home here in the Mission. Pvt. Castro is leaving camp to go to a school in the east for special training.

THE SUN SHINES—THE DAUGHTERS SMILE!

Life in the frozen North isn't too bad for a soldier when the sun shines—and the ladies smile. Perceive Private First Class Camillo "Smilie" Ferrari, son of John Ferrari of Niles, showing two U. S. O. girls how to pull a tight bow string.

The blond is Miss Judy Lane of Hollywood and the brunette, Miss Margie Liszt of New York City. Smilie was their driver while they were at his station; as a regular job he drives the colonel of his regiment around over roads so rough, our rough roads by comparison would seem like paved highways.

Smilie has put in for transfer to the Air Corps; he wishes to study to be a pilot. He has been a field artilleryman for three years.

ZOOT SUIT GANG AT DECOTO IS BROKEN UP

On Wednesday afternoon of last week Judge J. A. Silva of Niles sentenced Candelari Balcorta, 40 of Decoto to 90 days in the county jail after he pleaded guilty to a charge of battery following a fight with John Hernandez, 21, a sailor from Farragut, Idaho, at Decoto the Saturday night preceding.

Nor was that all of it. The Hayward Journal reports:

Breakup of an incipient Zoot Suit gang, assertedly organized at Decoto by a 17 year old veteran of Los Angeles rioting, was believed accomplished as two boys and two girls, members of the same family, were held at the Alameda county detention home last Thursday.

Three weeks of petty annoyances flared into open trouble as Candelari Balcorta, 40, father of the quartet engaged in a fight with John Hernandez, 21, a sailor, at Decoto Saturday night. Not until Hernandez signed a battery complaint Monday did investigations by deputy sheriffs definitely reveal the existence of the family gang.

GIRL LEADS GANG
Asserted leader of the gang was Julia Loma, 17, who returned to her home at Decoto about a month ago from Los Angeles. Immediately afterward, Henry Balcorta, 16, and his brother, Candelari Jr., 14, appeared in zoot suits while their sisters, Rachael 16, and Sally 17, donned the ultra-short skirts and rolled stockings of the Black Widows.

Shouting defiance and screaming hatred of sailors, the Loma girl denied she was the gang leader and successfully evaded being taken into custody as she was questioned by the county probation officer here Tuesday. Soldiers are not so bad, she declared, but sailors—

Because Julia was not present when Balcorta, her uncle, battled with the sailor, no charges were filed against her and she was released. Balcorta's four children were involved in the trouble, however, and were held.

Miss Edith Pementel of Niles is studying beauty culture work at an Oakland school. She goes back and forth daily.

A. W. S. SCHOOLS BEING CONDUCTED THROUGH TOWNSHIP

The public as well as the members of the Niles Air Warning Service are urged to attend the 10 weeks school of instruction which begins this Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Legion meeting hall at Niles, with Township Chairman J. J. Vieux serving as instructor.

He attended a two weeks course held recently in Berkeley which occupied eight full hours per day, and picked up enough information on this vital subject to occupy two hours per evening every Friday night from 8 to 10 o'clock for the next 10 weeks, he says.

Similar schools of instruction are now being held every Tuesday evening at Newark with Mrs. Redrick instructing and Thursday nights at Alvarado with Mrs. Henry instructing.

By proclamations of Governors of Pacific Coast states the week of August 1 to 7 is being observed as Aircraft Warning Service week, when the faithful volunteers who have served the observation posts so loyally and for so long, will be given public recognition.

Watch the back page of this newspaper next week!

PRACTICE INCIDENT SUNDAY AT NILES

The several Civilian Defense groups of Niles will hold a practice incident Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, with real smoke, a real fire but fake casualties. Participating will be the fire laddies, Air Raid Wardens, sheriff's deputies, nurses, Boy Scouts and the general public, according to E. F. Glassbrook, ARW chief at Niles.

The event will be signalled by the sounding of the fire siren—and wherever the white fire trucks head will be the scene of the incident, which just at present is a "military secret."

FORMER OWNER TAKES CONTROL OF CANNERY

DECOTO — Joe Pearce, former owner of the Pearce Cannery at Decoto has taken over the cannery again after selling it last November to Martin Wilms, and will open for the peach pack this week.

About 300 employees will be busy through the peach, tomato and spinach season through next February, Pearce says. Wilms gave up the cannery when his son who was associated with him entered the armed forces.

TWO LOCAL MEN CAPTURE JAP. AGNEW ESCAPEE

While driving in the vicinity of Calaveras Dam on Tuesday evening of last week, Joseph Ferry, rancher who lives on the Niles-Centerville highway, and Frank Silva of Sunol stopped to question a Jap who was wandering around by himself.

They brought him into Mission San Jose where he was held until two Deputy Sheriffs, William Fey and George Gouveia, came down from Hayward to question him. He gave his name as Kiyoshi Okubo, 23, formerly of Hayward, and admitted having escaped from the Agnew State Hospital that afternoon. He was returned to Santa Clara County authorities.

The Deputies reported that Okubo offered them $1 to let him go and then boosted the offer to $10, explaining that he was "anxious to get away from the war zone."

Although he claimed he was en route to attempt to rejoin relatives in Utah, he admitted that he had planned to detour through Hayward "because I have $50 in the bank there."

DIDN'T EXPLAIN

He did not explain how he hoped to procure that deposit, nor how he happened to be on the dam road.

Authorities, however, discounted the theory of a possible sabotage attempt—despite the fact that Okubo had made two trips to Japan and was committed to Agnew on December 1, 1941—in view of the fact that when taken into official custody by the deputies, Okubo declared that he "would escape again" and next time would disguise himself as a Chinaman.

PREVIOUS ESCAPE

On April 30 Okubo escaped from the mental hospital but was captured a short time later and returned by Santa Clara County authorities.

His disappearance last Tuesday apparently shortly after 1 o'clock, was not noted until the evening meal and lockup hour.

Okubo, a dementia praecox case, not considered a dangerous type, was not confined and had been permitted the freedom of the grounds.

He was committed by a brother, Takashi Okubo, now reported in a camp in Utah. Information as to other relatives was not available. Okubo made a trip to Japan in 1935 and again in 1940 spent six months in that country. He had been employed as an agricultural worker in the Hayward-San Leandro area prior to his commitment.

MORE WOMEN WANTED FOR HOME NURSING

F. T. Dusterberry Chairman of the Township Red Cross has named Mrs. Edgar C. Dawson of Niles as Township Chairman of the Home Nursing Program. Mrs. Dawson will name Town Chairmen to assist her in organizing classes in the various communities. Because many registered nurses are responding to the government call to the armed forces, it is necessary that many qualify as home nurses so that they may be able to care for their own families in case of sickness.

PILOT KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES NEAR CENTERVILLE

A would-be civilian rescuer was injured by a piece of flying debris Monday when he attempted to pull the pilot from an Army fighter-plane that crashed and burned 100 yards off the Newark-Centerville highway.

The flier, as yet unidentified by the Army, apparently was killed instantly when the plane fell out of formation and plunged 100 feet to earth, landing in a pasture a mile west of Newark.

Louis Fonesca, 30, Hayward poultry dealer, was driving by in his truck and saw the plane strike. It burst into flames immediately.

Ammunition Blows Up

He stopped his truck and started to run to the spot, hoping to pull the pilot out of the wreckage. When he got 50 feet from the plane ammunition started to explode and he felt something hit him.

Giving up his rescue attempt, Fonesca drove to Centerville to seek first aid from Dr. W. L. McWhirter. The doctor found that he had been hit in the abdomen by something, apparently a fragment of the plane. Fonesca was not seriously hurt.

On Routine Flight

The plane which Hamilton Field authorities said was on a routine flight from the Oakland Army field, was destroyed by the flames. There was nothing left but a bit of the tail and part of a wing half an hour after the crash.

The Navy, meanwhile, announced that Aden Dewey Gilder Jr. 19, aviation radioman third class from Sacramento, was the third flier killed in the crash of a Navy plane into Monterey Bay last Friday. Names of the other two men, one from Alameda and the other from Oakland, were revealed yesterday. The plane was from the Alameda Naval Air Station.

A 90 pound mountain lion was killed on the Michael Overacher ranch on the Mission Peak Road last week. It had not killed any of the stock but had nearly frightened them to death before Mr. Overacher shot it.

Palmyra, Wis. July 13, 1943

Dear Walter:

It was very good of you and Mrs. Wayne to accompany me to Oakland and drive my car back when I left. I had a good trip even in the Challenger was very crowded. Since arriving in Wisconsin even the weather has been kind to me!

Sunday I preached at Milton, with a very large congregation, and a picnic "fellowship dinner" at close of the church service. Next Sunday I occupy the pulpit of my old church at Fort Atkinson.

I am having a fine visit with so many old friends, several of whom offer me cars and gas! I have never seen Wisconsin more beautiful than now, due to an abundance of rain.

But I'll be glad to be back home in Niles, with my good friends there, and the beauty of California.

Sincerely yours,

D. Q.

Dressings give sparkle to salads

If you want those summertime salads to be devoured right down to the last shred of lettuce, then use a dressing that will change the ordinary salad into one of those delicious creations which every member of the family attacks with gusto! Doesn't matter whether it's the old-fashioned kind or a favorite from your grocery. By the way, the cooked mayonnaise given below is a cross between mayonnaise and the salad dressing that's so popular nowadays.

COOKED MAYONNAISE

2 egg yolks ¼ tsp. paprika
2 tps. mustard ½ tsp. Worcester-shire sauce
1 tsp. salt ¼ cup vinegar
¼ tsp. cayenne ¼ cup salad oil
pepper 1 cup shortening
¼ tsp. garlic salt 1 tsp. shortening
¼ tsp. celery salt ½ cup enriched flour
1 cup water

a. Combine egg yolks, seasonings and vinegar in deep mixing bowl.

b. Add oil without stirring.

c. Make sauce: Melt shortening in top of 1-qt. double boiler. Add flour and gradually add water, stirring until smooth. Cook over rapidly boiling water until mixture is thick and smooth, about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

d. Pour hot, cooked sauce into bowl with oil and vinegar mixture and beat with rotary beater until smooth and fluffy, about 3 minutes.

e. Store in covered jar in cool place. Makes 1 pt.

PIQUANT FRENCH DRESSING—Combine ¼-cup vinegar or lemon juice with ¾-cup oil, preferably olive oil. Season with ¾ tsp. salt, a dash of pepper, ¼ tsp. paprika and 1 tsp. sugar. Pour into a bottle or jar containing a bud of garlic and a whole clove. Shake vigorously. Remove garlic after an hour or two if you just want a tiny hint of the garlic flavor. Always shake before using.

HOMAYONNAISE—Beat together 1 egg yolk, 1 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. dry mustard and ¼ tsp. sugar. When frothy, add 1 tsp. vinegar or lemon juice and beat again. Beat in salad or olive oil very gradually, adding just a few drops at a time to prevent curdling, until ¾ cup oil has been added. When mixture thickens, add another tps. vinegar or lemon juice and beat again.

FRUIT SALAD DRESSING—Combine 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, homemade or prepared dressing, with 1 cup creamy cottage cheese and ¼-cup honey. Serve generously over fruit salad desserts. Delightful for those luncheon salads that are a meal in themselves.

Fatless, Sugarless Cookie Recipes

The last Friday of each month is the day set for receiving cookies baked by generous housewives to be enjoyed exclusively by convalescing veterans at the U. S. Marine Corps Hospital in Oakland, according to Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, Niles chairman of the Cookie Brigade activity. The next bake day is next Friday, July 30.

Three dozen cookies are requested, packaged in a flat box like a cake or pie box, to be left any time Friday at Duarte's New City Market in Niles. They now go up to Oakland by stage Saturday morning after cookies from Decoto are collected and Corp. F. J. Walsh is there to meet the stage and convey the cookies to the Marine Hospital where they are enjoyed to such an extent by the veterans that the commanding officer, Major R. W. Winter has written a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Baldwin.

For the benefit of those cookie bakers who are short of fats and sugar, following are some "ersatz" recipes which make fine cookies. Cut them out and paste them on a card in your recipe file book:

FRESH-CRISP

Salad Bowl FROM YOUR Victory GardenA Meal Nutritionally Right for Summer Days

JUST as you wear summer-weight clothes to feel fit and comfortable, try light weight, nutritionally right meals. Such a meal would be a Victory Garden Salad Bowl. Fresh-picked leafy-green vegetables, crisp radishes, firm tomatoes, pungent onions and other vegetables, crisp-chilled in your refrigerator and then tossed all are coated with a fresh-mixed salad dressing. Ah, there is a summer meal that is crunchy, satisfying eating.

HERE is a great secret to it all! Harvest just what you need and no more for a brimming salad bowl. Waste no minutes in putting your Victory Garden plucking right into your refrigerator. There is little Vitamin C loss that way. Your dependable refrigerator will see to that, especially if you have kept it cleaned and oiled and in good repair. But if your refrigerator is not working just right—and you can't remedy it, tell your refrigerator repair dealer about it. He'll be glad to advise you.

VICTORY SALAD BOWL

3/4 head lettuce, broken into 1 1/4 inch pieces
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tomatoes, cut in eighths
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup sliced radishes
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 clove finely chopped garlic

VICTORY DRESSING

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
Mix salt, pepper and paprika in salad bowl with 1 tablespoon salad oil. Then add remaining oil and vinegar and blend well with fork. Add salad vegetables and toss. Serves 6 to 8 persons.

THESE SUMMER MONTHS is the time when Victory Garden crops will be producing bountifully. Do not waste any of this fine, fresh food. Have salads in variety. Serve quick-cooked vegetable plates. And when a garden row of vegetables becomes depleted, start digging anew and planting anew for crop rotations right through late summer, fall and winter. You will be surprised how it will cut down your food bills too!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Furious Tank Battles Rage in Russia As Nazis Seek to Encircle Red Army; Farm Income Increased by Two Billion; Allied Victories Threaten Jap Bases

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

RUSSIA: Blitz Again

Seeking to wipe out the big Russian bulge on the central front, 500,000 German soldiers continued their attacks at both ends of the bulge, with the objective of encircling the huge Red army from the rear.

At the southern extremity of the bulge near Belgorod, the Reds admitted that the Nazis had scored early gains. According to the Russians, the Germans were backing up their forces with masses of tanks and airplanes. In action was a new tank, bigger than the 60-ton Mark VI.

From dispatches, the battle assumed the old lines of German blitzkrieg. The Nazis concentrated their strength at certain points and then threw their whole weight against them. As their forces streamed through, the Russians moved to pinch off the tanks and infantry and isolate them from the main armies.

Although claiming success, the Germans said that the huge bulge still extended 85 miles to the west.

CONGRESS:

Adjourns for Recess

Capping its hectic deliberations with an agreement to give President Roosevelt a free hand in reducing retail food costs through subsidies, the 78th congress recessed for a summer vacation.

The session saw passage of notable legislation. For the first time, taxpayers were put on a current basis with the enactment of pay-as-you-go legislation. Approximately 130 billion dollars was appropriated.

The administration's authority to make lend-lease and reciprocal trade agreements was renewed, and permission was given for use of 2 billion dollars to stabilize foreign currencies.

President Roosevelt's limitation of wartime salaries to $25,000 was repealed. Spurred by the walkout of the nation's coal miners, anti-strike legislation was passed over a presidential veto. Although both houses took favorable action on the Commodity Credit Corporation and agricultural department bills, they killed a senate proposal to raise the ceiling on corn to $1.40, and also voted to abolish crop insurance.

PACIFIC ADVANCE: On 700 Mile Front

The languorous islands of the Southwest Pacific know peace no more.

Along a great arc of 700 miles, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's offensive continues to rage, with American troops menacing the Jap air base of Munda in the Solomons, and Allied troops pressing against Salamaua in New Guinea from three sides.

Trapped in the narrow Kula gulf, eight Japanese warships were reported sunk, sent to the bottom by a thunderous broadside from U. S. naval vessels.

By making two landings on New Georgia island, American troops closed in on Munda from the north and east. Finished by the Japs last December, this air base would give Allied fighters and bombers a springboard for attacking the great enemy naval and airplane center of Rabaul, between the Solomons and New Guinea.

Stratified and bombed by Allied airmen, Jap troops gave ground before advancing columns in the area south of Salamaua.

FARM INCOME: Up by 2 Billion

Bolstered by a 36 per cent increase from marketing, farm income for the first five months of 1943 was up two billion dollars over last year.

Total income amounted to $6,788,000,000. Of this, $6,412,000,000 was gotten from marketing, while $376,000,000 was obtained in government payments.

The big increase from marketing was attributed to the larger returns from oil-bearing crops, tobacco, poultry and eggs. Substantial gains also were reported for all commodity groups.

The nation's heavy year-round demand for food was reflected in figures which showed that the increase in income from April to May was less than seasonal. Small increases resulted from marketing of vegetables, fruits and nuts and dairy products, among other crops.

MUNITIONS:

Need Great Quantities

Gigantic battles are in prospect and equally gigantic quantities of materials will be needed to achieve the victory, but the U. S. and Canada are equal to the task of supplying the Allied forces, Donald Nelson said in an address to the Canadian club.

Since the outbreak of the war, Nelson said, the two countries have turned out 115,000 airplanes, and before the end of the year, our capacity will be 112,000 annually.

More than 175,000 large caliber guns have been made, he continued, and more than 1,500,000 machine guns and 6,000,000 rifles have been produced. About 25 billion rounds of small arms ammunition—1,500 bullets to each Axis soldier—have been manufactured.

Close to 6,000 tanks, more than 1,600,000 trucks and nearly 70,000 scout and combat cars have rolled off the assembly line of the two nations, Nelson revealed. About 20 million tons of merchant shipping have left the ways, and production has now reached the rate of 22 million tons annually.

MEDITERRANEAN: Europe Tense

Allied air action at both ends of the Mediterranean and large concentrations of Allied shipping in North Africa have heightened the tension in the Axis' European fortress.

The Germans were chiefly concerned with Allied activity in the Near East. They interpreted frequent flights of Allied bombers and reconnaissance planes over the Aegean islands as preparation for a big push against the Grecian mainland. American fliers have raided Axis air bases near Athens, and British Commandos landed on the main Aegean island of Crete to probe enemy defenses and strike at an airfield.

In North Africa, the Allies were said to have massed over 1,000,000 tons of shipping, heavily shepherded by battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers. Hundreds of Allied planes have been assembled for attack.

American and British bombers continued to pound Sicilian airfields. Appearance of Axis fighter planes in force indicates that the enemy intends to challenge the Allies' occupation of Italy's neighboring islands.

Washington, D. C.

GAS-LESS AUTO RACE

An automobile race was staged in Brazil recently which should interest gas-less Americans. Thirty-two cars took part, and not one of them used a drop of gasoline.

Each car was equipped with a charcoal burning apparatus known as "gasogene," producing a charcoal gas whose combustion takes the place of the combustion of gasoline in the ordinary automobile engine.

These devices have been so successful in Brazil that they are being produced at the rate of 40 a day, selling for about $200 each. Some of the units are capable of generating a thousand horsepower, and are used even on the inter-city buses between Santos and Sao Paulo.

Brazil has practically no petroleum resources of her own.

TANKERS DELIVER PLANES

Everybody knows that bombers have long been delivered to England under their own power. But the big problem has been to deliver fighter planes, which have had to be taken apart, crated, then reassembled on the other side.

Now, however, a new system has been devised whereby U. S. tankers are carrying fighters on deck—20 to each tanker—and setting them down a few days later in England.

The War Shipping Administration is keeping the army "cleaned out of fighters" by this method of delivery, and is rapidly building up the strength of the Eighth Air Force command which is battering Germany.

Note: PT boats are also being delivered to England on the decks of tankers.

NO GERMAN SAUSAGE

The diplomats' grapevine reports that the German food supply is running low. A new cut has been made in the meat ration. This, coming at a time when the greatest muscle meat is being exerted in defense of the Vaterland, is expected to be a severe blow to German morale.

The basic ration of meat for normal uses was 400 grams at this time last year. But now the ration has been cut to 250 grams—which is about half a pound per week, including fat and bone. An effort is being made to compensate this reduction by the substitution of cheese and groats (hulled and crushed oats and wheat). During the winter, however, it was reduced to 300 grams. In the spring the cut was partially restored, when the ration was moved up to 350 grams, recognizing the necessity of more nourishment with the coming of the season of greater military activity.

ARMY AND GOLD MINING

American soldiers who spent dreary winters tracking through the Arctic forest to build the Alcan highway to Alaska frequently saw the sparkle of gold in the stream beds, and wanted to stake out claims for peacetime development. They were not allowed to do so.

Now, however, civilian construction crews are coming along the same trail, and are staking out claims for the gold which U. S. soldiers could not touch.

Boys from almost every state were sent to Alaska on that pioneering job—cutting a road through tall timber where none but Indians had passed before. They worked from Dawson Creek, in Alberta, to Fairbanks, Alaska, but the place where they saw the gleaming gold was in the Yukon, near Whitehorse.

At first, there was little time to think about private projects, for one battalion was racing against another to complete its 20-mile stretch of highway. But when a lull came in the work, the men asked permission to try their luck at panning gold. The officers, however, ruled this out.

Another season has rolled around, and things have changed. The pioneer road is being replaced by a permanent highway, built by big construction companies—Elliott Construction Co., and Becketel, Price and Callahan.

These companies have mining engineers attached to the construction gangs, and they are not bound by military discipline.

Note: Finally the army has modified its regulations to permit a little amateur gold panning by soldiers in Alaska, for recreational purposes. This activity will be in the same class with fishing, to give the soldiers sport in their spare time.

Washington wives with backs aching from work in their Victory gardens wish they had top sergeants to hoe their gardens as do the wives of high-ranking army officers at Ft. Myer across the Potomac.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce made one of her rare public appearances outside of congress when she spoke at Haverford (Pa.) School recently. Her husband, Harry Luce, is brother-in-law of Haverford Headmaster Leslie R. Severinghaus.

Coast Guardsman Warren H. Kimzey, Pacific hero who has seen men killed under all sorts of battle conditions, says he would rather be in Pacific action than fishing long-drowned duck hunters out of the Detroit river.

Engineers Hit the Enemy First

"American forces have landed at —." Behind this commonplace phrase lies months of training and preparation on the part of the amphibious engineers—the first troops to land in an assault on enemy shores. The engineers are a streamlined unit thoroughly trained in the operation of small boats and in the demolition of enemy defenses. Most of the men picked for this service were small boat operators, boat-builders and fishermen in civilian life. They are now the vanguards of attacking U. S. forces.

Landing techniques are demonstrated by soldiers at Camp Johnston, Florida, where amphibious engineer units are trained by a staff commanded by Brigadier General David A. Ogden. Above, a craft has been beached. The engineers run to their objectives, usually barbed wire entanglements, pillboxes, or other obstacles to successful landing of attack troops and heavier equipment which follow the engineers. A new technique in climbing over barbed wire entanglements is shown at right. Some of the men form a ladder of rifles on which those following quickly climb and hurry on to their objectives.

As bullets whine and charges explode amphibious engineers make a landing to establish a beachhead during maneuvers. Note the explosion at right center nearly concealing the landing boat.

Success of American landing operations were brilliantly shown when the Japs were swept from the Aleutian island of Attu. Above, two members of the navy shore patrol aid in pulling an ammunition cart over a ridge on Attu. Lower left, an American soldier studies Japanese graves on Attu—the end of most of the Japs who resisted Americans in this sector. Very few Japs were captured.

A loud speaker is used to carry instructions to a landing boat at Attu. The Attu campaign was a combined army and navy operation.

IT'S around the halfway mark in the two big league pennant races. Looking back, there have been many unusual features, beyond all April predictions when the 16 clubs were struggling through the coldest spring in many years.

If any one should care for our top nomination from the ranks of the unexpected, it would be the showing of the Phillies under the smart handling of Bucky Harris.

Second choice, on the bizarre line, would belong to Washington's Senators who were not expected last April to be within 12 games of the Yankees at this sultry summer spot.

The third nomination would go to the Dodgers who have been crowding the Cardinals most of the way with a pitching staff that has been packed with kinks, off and on.

Back around the middle of April, when there was still frost in the cold winds, we figured the Cardinals and Yankees had enough material to pull away from the two packs by early June.

Both had lost many stars—Terry Moore, Johnny Beasley, Enos Slaughter, Joe DiMaggio, Red Ruffing, Phil Rizzuto and others, but both still had enough left to take charge.

So far it hasn't happened that way.

The Real Miracle

If there is any such thing as a miracle, the award must go to the Phillies.

They looked moth eaten in 1942. They looked even worse as they faced the present scramble.

When Bill Cox bought this franchise there was a general belief that he would have to wait until the war was over to get any part of his money back. After all, you can't eat a franchise, or play it in the infield or outfield.

Bets were made that the Phillies in their 77 home games wouldn't draw out 250,000 customers.

But the Phillies have already passed their 1942 total in the way of admission and they are sure to double the turnstile count of other years.

While the Yankees with a number of star veterans back, plus a good looking pitching staff, were rated well above all American league opposition, few gave the senators any first division chance.

The old slogan was again in evidence—"Washington—first in war, first in peace—next to last in the American league.

The Browns and the Cleveland Indians were supposed to be on Yankee heels.

Only Connie Mack and Clark Griffith refused to concede the Yankees any winning margin.

Manager Bluege came popping in with such pitchers as Candini and Carrasquel, some pretty fair hitting, and a club of hustlers.

So far no managers have turned in a better job than Bucky Harris and Ossie Bluege, both old Washington stars.

In some way these two have sidestepped the well-known "Washington Muddle," applying to everything else. Apparently outside of General Marshall and his staff, Bluege has put out the best job in Washington.

Another High Spot

There has been another high spot at the halfway mark—a high spot from a low spot.

This is the sad picture of Cubs and Giants battling for the tail-end title. To have the Senators and Phillies up there, punching with both hands, as Giants and Cubs trail the entire field, is something no one has yet seen, at least as far as we can recall any such National league turn.

The Cubs, at least, with what looked to be a good pitching staff, have been the main shock to most of the soothsayers. After Johnny Mize and other Giant mates departed, Mel Ott wasn't given much of a chance to go anywhere, except downhill.

The two races have been more interesting and have produced better baseball than many expected with so many stars absent in service uniforms.

But for all that the fan crop has seen good baseball and two of the closest pennant races in many years.

Baseball will have a little trouble through the rest of the 1943 season.

The Unbeaten

All the super horses of late years have been beaten once or more. This includes Man o' War, Count Fleet, Alsab, Seabiscuit and Whirlaway.

But there are still five unbeaten horses in the records that go well back, according to Clem McCarthy.

Here is Clem's list—

Norfolk—1844.

Asteroid—1864.

Tremont—1886.

El Rey—1889.

Collin—15 races—1907 and 1908.

CALIFORNIA FARMERS LEAD THE NATION

For the first time in history, the State's annual cash farm income exceeded one billion dollars in the past year, according to the ledger.

Reason: California farmers, in spite of almost insuperable handicaps, have stepped up their production to feed millions more than in ordinary years. Their produce daily goes to the commissary departments of every branch of the armed services and to production centers feeding great new concentrations of war workers.

The 31 per cent "hike" in income shows mainly in the fruit, vegetable, grain and citrus brackets which account for 66 per cent of the increase. Livestock and livestock products make up 32.6 per cent of it and government payments 1.26 per cent.

On paper, the figures look rosy. Actually, the farmer still is struggling in the maelstrom of increased production expense, curtailed transportation, machinery shortage and a minimum of labor at a maximum of cost. He has made his remarkable showing by his own dogged toil, along with that of his farm family—and by his determination to produce the food Uncle Sam needs. He is still in a comparable position with the teacher and other professional workers whose costs have soared along with everybody else's, but whose real earnings have not gone up a whit.

The farmer is due a vote of thanks, for even in these difficult times he is still maintaining one of California's proudest "firsts"—as leader of all the nations in farm produce.

BOMBS FOR TOKIO

We who live here on the Pacific Coast, and who have more reason to remember Pearl Harbor, perhaps, than any other section of the country, should buy bonds more willingly, and in greater number, knowing that they will soon be turned into bombs to blast Tokio.

Commemorating the first anniversary of the United States Air Forces in China, Major General Claire L. Chennault told his cheering eagles:

"I sincerely hope that during the next year you men will fly over Japan itself many times—We are starting a new year. Things will be different before it ends."

Our Pacific offensive leaves little doubt that Japan's hour of reckoning is drawing constantly closer. We are not just conquering islands. We have no intention of taking Japan's island outposts, one by one. We are simply securing sea bases and flying bases for future operations, with Japan proper as the target. That is clearly apparent—and for that, American airmen and the American people are waiting.

TWO ENEMIES LEFT?

And here's a prediction that in 60 days or so we will only have two enemies left to fight and vanquish: Germany and Japan. Coz the Italian people don't want any part in fighting America and Britain, their former Allies,—notwithstanding what their frantic fascist leaders blare today.

The wreckage we are now heaping on beautiful Naples and other renowned Italian cities is breaking the hearts, and with it the morale, of the true Italian people (as distinguished from the fascists). Mussolini is already a discredited old man in the eyes of his people, and his soldiers on Sicily are eagerly surrendering, according to late news reports.

The conquest of Italy is a foregone conclusion and should not prove too difficult, for with its conquest comes liberation for the natives from the Nazi tyranny—and FOOD, which means olive oil and macaroni, dear to the hearts of the Italian people. The invaders long since stripped the Italians of their normal food supply, so the Italians have little "stomach" for fighting U. S.

Hitler has resigned his command of Nazi troops on the Orel front in Russia, recent dispatches say, has relinquished "General Intuition" and has returned to the safety and comfort of Berlin. His Russian adventure, now in its third year, is a flop, and has cost him the flower of his army and of German manhood.

When United Nations' troops set foot on German soil, and where, is not yet apparent. Certainly not through Italy, with the Alps to cross. Possibly through the Balkans or the Low Countries. That event will be the real battle, and the Big News—when it happens.

Before the leaves fall this autumn it is this observer's firm belief the Italian people will have sued for peace, for they already realize the hopelessness of their position; the fascist bubble has burst, and all they want is food to eat as aforesaid, coal to warm their homes, and peace, in which to raise their bambinos and their whiskers.

PLAYING IT SAFE

Franco of Spain, that first proving ground of military idealogy, is "looking both ways to Sunday." He is flirting with an alliance with Giraud and the Free French in North Africa, while trying to preserve his ties with what's left of the Vichy government.

He is "playing his aces both ways to the middle", and little by little the squeeze play now going forward will eliminate his ties with the Vichy government, which is only a fading blind for the Nazi tyranny over France.

Where IS the Vichy government now, and who is its head? Petain, Laval and their stooges have dropped off the front pages. It is questionable if they will survive this year.

It is dawning on the Spanish revolutionary leaders that the Nazis cannot win now. Portugal has wisely kept its skirts clean through out all these treacherous years, and Spain, little by little, will have the ideological poison purged from its body politic.

The sooner the better!

When we invade Europe proper, IF we can get Spain and Turkey on our side; IF the Balkan states will revolt and join us—and it is the expectation that they will—our forthcoming advance through Europe will come to resemble a snowball: the farther you roll it the bigger it gets, until it bursts like a gargantuan maelstrom over the Fatherland proper.

That's the day and the event the Christian world is waiting and praying—and fighting!—for.

TWO BAD BOYS GET "SPANKED"

Can you imagine the Commander-in-Chief getting hard boiled? Well he did! FDR broke up the scandalous dog-fight between Vice President Wallace, BEW chieftain and Jesse Jones, Secretary of Commerce, with a directive which relieved them both of their foreign purchasing power. He set up a new bureau, the Office of Economic Warfare and put Foreign Property Custodian Leo T. Crowley at the head of it.

"We must have harmony between government heads and departments" ordered the President, and being good Americans and good sports, both Wallace and Jones buried the hatchet and said "O. K. Chief, you're the Big Boss." This could only happen in a Democracy. Future bickering between official heads will hereafter be reported to the President first, rather than to the American public. And that shines!

RATS DESERT SINKING SHIP

Do you see the Germans helping their "partners" the Italians in their hour of need? You do not. There are not too many Nazi soldiers left since the newest Nazi debacle in Russia, and the Germans are desperately conserving what manpower and machinepower they have left.

Do you see Japan helping Germany at any time or place? Japan has got what she wants and Germany is to get none of it.

Conversely, when German proper is invaded will the Japs create a diversion elsewhere? If they do, it will be solely for their own selfish benefit.

So we have two separate wars on our hands, the Anglo-Nazi and the Anglo-Tojo. The Japanese peasant folk, who do the fighting and dying don't want war any more than we do.

Nor do the real German people of Bavaria, Saxony and Wurtemberg. They are farm folk, and peace loving—

The pattern of things to come becomes clearer every day.

THE GREAT FATHER

There's one man in Southern Alameda County who has a large "family" of boys. "His" boys try to get your morning and evening newspapers to your doorsteps every day, and on time.

This is a chore of considerable magnitude, as Al Juhl's territory covers all the communities of Southern Alameda County, including the communities of Washington Township, plus Pleasanton and Livermore. He conveys the wholesale deliveries to all his boys in all these communities morning and evening every day, using his station wagon which rolls up more miles than a travelling salesman in peace time.

Mr. Juhl gets up at some ungodly hour of the morning every day, and on Sunday—whoooh! I believe it is 2 a. m. with his wife to help him. This goes on every day of the year, many years in a row, with no days off.

If one of his carriers gets sick, boy. Does a boy need a new tire "AL" carries the route for the for his bike? "AL" takes care of that, too.

With the 14 year old and older boys going into the juicy earnings at the shipyards, carrying the many routes now devolves on younger boys.

Subscribers who live out of the way have to come to their post boxes on the main highway to get their papers; Juhl's gas allowance does not permit him to make separate deliveries off main highways, as he could do in peace days.

In addition to all this grinding responsibility there is considerable money to handle every month; each boy's account to keep, plus a little savings account Juhl maintains in the bank for each carrier.

Each boy has from $50 to $75 per month of paper money to account for. Getting your daily paper to your doorstep is no cinch, particularly in a territory as large as Southern Alameda County.

The Fresno daily papers quit rural deliveries some months ago. Subscribers get their papers there by mail—next day. We are lucky that we can still pick up our daily paper from our doorstep while it is still today's paper.

If you see "AL" dozing at the wheel of his station wagon some warm afternoon, with daily papers piled up all around him—well—follow his trail for only a week and you'd doze at odd intervals, too.

As for me: I'll stick to the publishing and printing business—and let Uncle Sam deliver my Willage Weakly for me. —W. W.

THAT INCOME TAX

One wonders how many persons keep careful records through the year of their family expenses? Very few, no doubt.

If the sums of money spent with doctors and dentists for yourself and dependents throughout the year exceeds five percent of your gross income, the amount above the 5% can be deducted as non-taxable. Sometimes an expensive operation takes more than five percent of your year's income.

Federal admission taxes paid for movies and all places of amusement are deductible, etc. etc.

Only by keeping careful record through the year can the tax payer know next spring what he or she earned and spent, and what the amount may be of the deductible items.

Times are sure getting tough when a pipe smoker has to boil out his old pipe cleaners and use them over again, because they are not being manufactured any more! (If the war does not hurt us any worse than that, we will be lucky!)

ROGUE'S GALLERY

When Hitler was in Denmark some time ago he planned to visit their police headquarters. A tactful Nazi official sent the police, in advance, six different photographs of Adolf, hoping they would be displayed for the Fuehrer's visit. When the Fuehrer arrived, however, none were on view, so the Nazi official took the police chief aside and asked: "Did you get those six photographs I sent you?" The police chief pondered a minute, then replied: "Why, yes, I remember. And you'll be glad to know we've caught five of the crooks already!"

FDR Must Take Helm Again To Achieve National Unity

Administration, Congress Must Get Tough In Throttling Various Pressure Groups Seeking Advantages for Few.

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building Washington, D. C.

In the next few weeks decisions will be reached which will affect the length of the war and they will not be made on the military fronts. They will be made in small town offices, leaning across fences, down at the post office or the court house, on front stoops, at the Elks club, in the lodge rooms and after meetin's of one kind or another in every middlesex, village and farm in the country.

They will result from conversations between the congressmen, home to mend their 1944 fences, and their constituents. The nation faces a crisis on the home front. Unless it is solved in the common sense American way, it is going to prolong the war months, and perhaps longer. Its presence has already delayed the capitulation of Italy, according to some of the more pessimistic pessimists around Washington.

As success on the battlefield grows, the efforts of those trying to support a total war are being defeated on the home front.

Two Events

Two events mark the low in unified effort for victory. One was when a reporter, with no evil inuendo in his mind as far as I know (and I know the man), asked the President if he would make any comment for background on the statement that although things were going well on the battlefield, they were not going so well on the administration front (meaning home front). The President replied with a castigation of the press and radio. Some of their representatives, he said, were encouraging governmental friction. He could have given a blasting, rip-roaring answer which would have encouraged the country. As it was, he made some of the men whose job it is to interpret the news to the country, too mad to be objective.

The second event which marked the nadir in shoulder-to-shoulder effort on the home front was when congress came within an eyelash of killing the use of any and all subsidies which would have broken a wide hole in the anti-inflation dam. Let me state immediately that I do not believe that subsidies is the panacea for our inflation ills, but to have wiped them out completely at that time would have meant jerking the one, wobbling support we did have right out from under the price-control structure.

Since then the President has perked up and taken a positive stand and congress on second thought modified its berserk mood and evolved a compromise.

Now it is up to the people. If the congressmen are convinced that they can afford to go national and not be defeated a year from November; if they are convinced that the people will support their votes if they vote for what they think the country needs and not to suit the pressure groups that sit on their desks all day, the crisis will pass.

Crack-Down Necessary

The objectives are pretty clear. In the first place, the President has got to take the helm again. He has got to crack down. He has got to see that dissensions do not break out. He has got to see to it that the secretary of the treasury comes out with a clear-cut tax and savings program which will absorb the inflation dollars. Congress will have to support that program.

The pressure groups whose purpose it is to get their members more money for products or wages, will have to be throttled. This means that the administration has to be tough. Congress will have to have courage. The people will have to support their elected representatives.

The vast majority of Americans are perfectly willing to carry their share of the load. They are not willing to make sacrifices if they believe someone else is getting the benefit and shirking their share. The farmer will work the skin off his hands and take a meager reward if it's for the good of the country and the boy he spared to join the army. But not if somebody tells

NEW YORK.—Peace and its problems are the concern of brisk Nelson Rockefeller. His Office of Inter-American Affairs, having scotched the Axis fifth columns southward, works now, he says, for a long-term two-continent control of production and prices.

An aggressive grandson of the aggressive John D. Sr., young Nelson has fixed himself solidly in the hemispheric picture. His family name may have helped him to a running start and Harry Hopkins' blessing gave him an early breather, but latterly he seems to have done very well on his own.

He is 35 now, with the strong, squarish face of his father and considerable good looks. Married 13 years he has five children—Rodman, Ann, Steven, and twins, Michael and Mary. Not until the second twin was one of the five named for Mary Todhunter Clark whom Rockefeller married practically the minute he finished his studies at Dartmouth.

At Dartmouth he lived on $1,500 a year, but he had to save 10 per cent and give 10 away. That was a 20 per cent income slash long before Morgenthau got the idea. But he learned to handle money. And now, as a trustee of the Rich Metropolitan Museum of Art and of the Livly Modern Museum, and as a director of the family's epochal Rockefeller Center, he deals with mountains of currency and never turns a hair.

THROUGH three long years Sir Bernard Paget's Home Command has stood on the alert, never sure it would not need to fight on the beaches and in the hills. Now, however, England hears of a happily "altered military situation" and Sir Bernard orders soldiers to begin tearing down those barriers hurriedly raised when the terrible Hun was just outside the gate.

A lieutenant general, Sir Bernard has been commander-in-chief of the Home forces for a couple of years. Earlier he tangled with the Nazis in Norway. They had him outnumbered and his problem was to pull back his hardpressed troops and embark them without a major engagement.

He deployed by day, forced the Nazis to deploy to meet the threat of battle, then at night ran like a get-out-for the coast. It was a backhanded victory, but then he was content.

In the last war Sir Bernard ended up a major, DSO, MC, with an Italian decoration, numerous flattering dispatches and four wounds, including a crippled left arm. When the French chivvied Abdel Krim he was an observer, perhaps picking up some pointers about night retreats.

A redheaded son of a one-time bishop of Oxford, and 55 years old, he still is enough influenced by his father to want sweetness and light in his army. Not long ago he ordered an end of strong language, or at any rate less of it. With those barriers falling his soldiers should find obedience easier.

THEY tell you, in army circles, that Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney is about the best poker player in uniform anywhere. They do not mean, however, how-

Best Poker Player In Army Says Japs On Skids; No Bluff

Deputy chief of staff, the youngest officer ever to hold that post, McNarney is generally considered a soldier who talks only when he knows his facts.

He was born in Pennsylvania 50 years ago. His father was a lawyer, a tough prosecutor; his mother an indomitable temperance worker. After West Point he switched in '15 to the signal corps which then included the little air arm we possessed. About the same time he switched to matrimony with a handsome little school ma'am from San Diego.

He was an air officer in France through the little World war and has been one ever since. Like other top commanders of the American army at this time, his permanent rank is nothing much. The lieutenant generalcy is but a temporary one, and unless our congress is big hearted after peace is declared, he might drop back to colonelcy. He is a tall man and lean and dark, with not much hair forward any more. By some he has been called dour, taciturn and ruthless, but his many good friends insist that the word "fair" be added.

BIBLE TEACHINGS ON THE COST OF DRINKING

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 21:18-21; Proverbs 23:20, 21; I Corinthians 6:9-11. GOLDEN TEXT—Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God?—I Corinthians 6:9.

Billions of dollars—how many we cannot say—make up the annual cost of liquor to America in dollars and cents. Terrifying as it is, that stupendous waste is but a drop in the bucket compared with the moral and spiritual degradation, the sorrow and suffering, the poverty and distress, which must be added into our liquor bill.

For it is not only a matter of dollars, but of blood and tears, or destroyed usefulness, lost virtue, wrecked homes, and so on and on and on. We go right on paying the bill, allowing ourselves to be misled by clever propaganda, and skillfully manipulated statistics—or it may be our sheer indifference. When will America awaken!

Our lesson faces us with the cost of this despicable traffic in the life of the individual to the social order, and in the light of eternity.

I. The Personal Cost (Deut. 21:18-21).

Liquor destroys individuals relentlessly, rapidly, and effectively. Have we forgotten that fact?

The passage in Deuteronomy presents a drastic remedy for a dreadful situation. Drink and gluttony were recognized as the deadly instrument which would bring a boy to the place where he was incorrigible. Stubborn, rebellious, and disobedient, his parents were to bring him to the elders for a final judgment.

If one thinks the penalty too harsh, he must remember that it was established in the early days of Israel when it was necessary for God to use such drastic remedies to stamp out incipient evil.

It must be remembered that in ancient Greece weak children were left out to die, and in Rome a father could at will put to death even a grown up son.

The point of this scripture for us is that a life of debauchery (and it can start with just a glass of wine) leads to the ultimate destruction of life. It is far too high a cost to pay for a sinful indulgence.

II. The Social Cost (Prov. 23:20, 21).

Drunkness and gluttony lead to poverty and rags. The intemperate man cannot keep up with the high cost of supplying his growing appetite. Even as he tries to satisfy his insatiable demand, it also renders him unfit to earn a living.

So the vicious circle works its way around, and stops not until the drunkard totters off in his rags, unless perchance some loved one or friend takes care of him.

Do we not all recall how families in our own communities have been ruined and become charges upon the county or charitable organizations because of the destruction wrought by a father who was a winebibber?

Not only does it bring poverty upon families, but it reduces able and gifted men to shambles wrecks and thus deprives society of the benefit of their lives and service.

A present-day illustration is the unsolved problem of absenteeism for days after pay day in our essential industries. Again we say the cost is altogether too high; let us get rid of this monster before it destroys us!

III. The Eternal Cost (I Cor. 6:9-11).

Money lost is serious. Life lost is far more serious. But the saddest cost of all is the eternal damnation of the drinker's soul.

We quote from Dr. Horace Martin these stirring and meaningful words: "It is my calm judgment that any man who names the name of Christ should take an attitude of horror and disgust at the liquor traffic and the use of liquor as a beverage. There are at least three places in the New Testament where the Bible says that no drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God."

"If any man takes that statement seriously he must think twice before he refers to the use of liquor in a joking manner, or in any way condones the use of alcohol as a beverage" (Lesson Commentary).

Drunkness is a foul and sinful thing, classed by the apostle Paul with the lowest of human vices. Review the list as it is given in verses 9 and 10 (and by the way notice the other sins mentioned there), and place drunkness in its proper classification.

Vegetable Canning Guide

Non-Acid Vegetables

Are you putting up many greens and vegetables from your Victory garden this year? In other years, the first question we asked after that, was, do you have a pressure cooker?

You see, a pressure cooker is the safest, most desirable method of putting up vegetables which are non-acid. The reason: In most soil there is a deadly germ called Botulinus which attaches itself to vegetables.

In the non-acid class, to which most of them belong, Mr. Botulinus is hard to destroy except by extreme heat—which the pressure cooker can give as most vegetables are processed at an above-boiling point, 240 degrees Fahrenheit.

Let me go on record as saying use the pressure cooker if you possibly can. Chances of your being able to buy one are slim, but perhaps there's a neighbor or friend or a local canning center which will give you the means of having one. If it's absolutely impossible to obtain a pressure cooker, do non-acid vegetables by the boiling water bath. It takes much longer to process the vegetables, but don't skimp a minute of it, if you would be successful.

Processing Foods Processing times have been carefully tested and cannot be shortened. Follow them to the letter to get results. Processing may be done in various ways, and it is important to select the one best suited to the food you are putting up.

A pressure cooker gives you the greatest degree of safety in canning non-acid vegetables for it permits the greatest degree of heat to penetrate the jar and thus destroy botulinus. To use the pressure cooker, prepare the product, pre-cook it and pack carefully in sterilized jars. Adjust cap. Prepare pressure cooker by pouring hot water into the bottom of the cooker up to the level of the rack. Place filled jars on rack, allowing for sufficient circulation of water around them. Be sure jars do not touch.

Place top on pressure cooker and clamp on tightly. Leave pet cock open 7-10 minutes to exhaust all steam in cooker, otherwise you will not get correct pressure. After all steam is exhausted, close pet-cock and let pressure mount to desired degree, then turn down heat, and maintain pressure exactly or liquid will be drained from jars if pressure is allowed to fluctuate.

When processing time is up, remove cooker from heat, let pressure reach zero, then remove lid, so steam does not hit you when cooker is opened. Set jars on several thicknesses of cloth or paper, and let cool, without inverting.

Hot Water Bath. A large, deep vessel with a tight-fitting cover is best for making this type of canner. Use a big kettle, a lard can, a deep well cooker with galvanized wire or rack at the bottom of it to hold the jars one-half inch from the bottom of the canner. Before putting jars in canner, have water boiling briskly. If the jars lower the temperature and it stops boiling when they're submerged, do

Lynn Says:

What to Do: Make rationing work by using fresh fruits and vegetables for canned whenever possible. To save money, use seasonal produce generously.

In main dishes that call for tomatoes or tomato juice, use fresh tomatoes when in season, put up home canned foods, or substitute brown gravy.

Save and store excess water from vegetables in a covered container and use for flavoring soups, stews and gravies.

Omit chili sauce and catsup in recipes unless you have the home-canned variety. Chopped green pepper and relishes add pep to salads and sandwich fillings without taking ration points.

Cooked dressings or sour cream dressings will help save your using too much oil for salad dressings.

Save every ounce of extra fat from meat. Use it for baking or frying, or give it to the butcher.

not count processing time until the water boils.

It's especially important to make certain there's plenty of water in the boiling water bath. There should be enough to come two inches above the jars. If water boils out during processing, add some boiling water from a teakettle on the range.

Canning Procedure.

Use the table given at the head of this column for guiding you in pre-cooking and processing vegetables. The ideal way of proceeding with your canning is as follows:

First, before you even start canning, get jars ready by washing them in hot soapy suds and scalding them. Check for nicks, cracks and sharp edges on jars, to see that they are perfect. Prepare jars ahead of time and invert them on several thicknesses of clean towel near your stove so that you have them on hand when canning.

Prepare vegetables by washing thoroughly and then cutting or preparing as for table. Precook, according to table. Pack in sterile jars and process for required time. Set jars to cool, after processing on several thicknesses of towel or newspaper, away from drafts. Let cool for 24 hours. If using a self-sealing lid with screw band, remove screw band and use it over again. Test the jars by tapping gently on lid. If you get a high ringing note, the jar is sealed and may be stored.

Reasons for Spoilage.

Spoilage reasons are many and may be traced to any part of the canning procedure. Sometimes it is easier to avoid failures if you know what causes certain types of spoilage.

If fruit or vegetables are over-ripe, sterilization is difficult as bacteria may have developed to a degree which it is not possible to arrest. Use only produce in prime condition as you get out of your jars what you put in them.

Washing all vegetables and fruits before working will get rid of bacteria which cling in the soil.

Unclean jars can work havoc with your canning effort. Best remedy for this is washing jars thoroughly in clean soapy suds and then scalding, and laying the jars inverted on several thicknesses of clean towel until ready to use. Lids should also be sterilized.

Sealing.

Seal the cap according to the principle on which it was made. A self-sealing cap seals by vacuum created by the cooling of the contents of the jar, and the screw band does not need tightening after processing. Zinc caps and rubber bands should be tightened.

Can for Health.

Fruits and vegetables are known to be a rich source of health-giving vitamins and minerals. Vitamin A for example, so extremely essential to children and adults alike, is found in large quantities of certain fruits and vegetables. Vitamin A promotes growth; it helps to prevent eye diseases; it helps guard against infections; it helps prevent night blindness; it aids in the normal functioning of glands; it increases the life span. From experimental studies it appears that if a child, during the years from 3 to 10, is fed very large amounts of vitamin A, he will be less susceptible to the usual children's diseases. A growing child requires 3,000 International Units of vitamin A daily; an adult 6,000 to 8,000 daily.

BRIEFS... by Baukhage

The American soldier's average coffee ration is 40 cups of coffee a month.

The Army Service Forces is the largest employer of women in the United States today, with a total of 379,300, or approximately 38 per cent of the more than 1,000,000 civilian workers employed in ordnance plants, depots, etc.

The German occupation forces have "ceased quarrying" for large stone blocks in the southern province of Vestfold, the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said in an article reported to the OWI. The Germans had intended using the stone for victory monuments, the article said. Waste labor obviously will not be countenanced.

COUNTY TO MOVE STATE GUARD BLDGS. TO PLEASANTON

(The Southern Alameda County News)

PLEASANTON — Work began last week on emergency buildings which will house harvest workers, including at least 100 Mexican nationals—at the Alameda County Fair Grounds in Pleasanton.

Changing original plans, which called for the expenditure of $12,000 for new construction, the Board of Supervisors announced that the present Exhibits Building will be remodeled.

When work is completed, the structure will provide a dormitory for school children who will work in the tomato harvest. Last year, these children—credited with saving the local tomato crop—lived in quarters under the racetrack grandstand.

Former State Guard Camp buildings near the Calaveras Dam will be transported to the Fair Ground to provide accommodations for the Mexicans, the Supervisors said. The Mexicans are expected to arrive between August 15 and September 1, in time to aid with the tomato and beet harvests.

Total cost to the county for both projects, according to George Jensen, Board chairman, will not exceed $8,000. The remodeled Exhibits Building will provide a permanent structure adequate to care for expanded Fair activities when the war ends, he predicted. The Guard buildings will be removed after the emergency.

Cost of maintaining the workers will be borne by the agriculturists who benefit by the assignment of workers to their properties. The project will be administered by the County Farm Production Committee—a local group.

The Supervisors originally had intended to construct permanent buildings for the workers. They were to be designed so they could be adapted to Fair needs after the war. Material priorities and labor shortages made the plan impracticable, they learned.

KAY KYSER TO STAGE BENEFIT SATURDAY EVE

Kay Kyser, the "Ol' Professor" of radio's Musical Kollege of Knowledge, has played before nearly 4,000,000 service men and defense workers since Pearl Harbor, but "The busiest man in show business" isn't stopping.

He will make his first Oakland appearance Saturday night, July 24, at the Oakland Auditorium Arena for the purpose of raising funds for the construction of a swimming pool for the personnel at the Oakland Naval Hospital at Oak Knoll.

The Kay Kyser show and dance, from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m., will feature the entire troupe—Harry Babbitt, "Ish Kabibble", Julie Conway, Sully Mason and Trudy Erwin—and all are donating their services, according to Ben Morris, chairman of the citizens committee arranging the entertainment.

"Oakland has a wonderful opportunity to make a worthwhile contribution to the boys at Oak Knoll through the kindness and cooperation of Kay Kyser," Morris declared. "The show and dance will be more than a 'benefit'—it is really a community project. Every cent taken in, after deducting taxes, will go to build the pool. No one will be paid."

Honorary co-chairmen of the committee are George Janssen, chairman of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, and Dr. John F. Slavich, Mayor of Oakland. Clifford D. Allen is vice chairman, Mrs. John F. Mullins is secretary and Fred S. Wells treasurer.

RESERVATIONS NECESSARY FOR S. P. COACH TRAVEL

If you're planning a trip by rail, and even if you expect to ride only in chair-cars, you'll have to make reservations, beginning today, if your trip is to be via Southern Pacific, it was announced this week by F. S. McGinnis, vice president in charge of passenger traffic for the railroad.

Under the new arrangement, coach reservations will be made for definite trains, but not for specific cars or seats, except on trains where seat reservations have previously been required. Servicemen will also be required to make advance reservations, but they will be given preference.

"We will not be able to make coach reservations by telephone," McGinnis stated.

HOSPITAL UNIT ASKS TOYS FOR RECLAIMING

Toys that need repairing are being sought by the Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital and may be left at the salvage shop on First street, Mrs. James R. Whipple, branch chairman said at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. J. L. Lush.

The toys will be used in connection with occupational therapy for service men. Men's handkerchiefs and canes are also desired for hospitals and jewelry for barter in the South Pacific islands. The salvage shop has already sent in 65 pounds of nylon stockings for parachutes and desires more.

Tin cans should be saved at home till further notice and a special date will be announced for collection of papers.

It is estimated that there are now 20,000,000 victory gardens in the United States.

NILES SCOUTS RESCUE CHINAMAN FROM WET GRAVE

Lum Gee, 74 was saved from an apparent suicide attempt in Alameda Creek near here Tuesday of last week by Boy Scouts who were near by.

Lum was half submerged in the water when he was noticed by Norvel Peixoto, 14, of Centerville, one of a group of boys on a raft. Gerald Morley, 13, dived in and pulled the unconscious Lum to safety while Milton DeBorja, 13, ran for help.

Artificial respiration was administered by George Enos, an employee of the Alameda County corporation yard and Lum was breathing when Fire Chief Fred Rogers arrived with the resuscitator.

Lum was taken to Fairmont Hospital where his condition is reported as fair.

Woo Sing, with whom Lum made his home said he found a note written in Chinese which indicated Lum's intention to end his life. It complained of poor health and constant pain, Woo said.

And how do you like a page of comics appearing hereafter on page six of each issue? I had to add another page of syndicated service (printed in San Francisco) because there is not enough advertising or news to keep even a six page home-print newspaper going in these days when civilian activity is greatly reduced by war restrictions. —The publisher.

S·P NEEDS MORE WEEK-END TRACK WORKERS HERE!

To help win the war, many patriotic men now work on railroad track—some on week-ends, some full time.

War traffic is increasing constantly and our right of way must be kept in good repair to move the long, heavy trains. We urgently need more track workers in this vicinity.

If you are a business or professional man, a clerk or student, we hope you can lend us a hand week-ends or during your vacation. You will get healthy outdoor exercise and be paid for it. And it will give you much personal satisfaction to be aiding an essential war industry.

Complete details easily available. Please see...
